MAIN IDEA

It is possible to build a profitable, money-making venture in one hour of work per day. To achieve that, you need to apply the agile entrepreneurship methodology which states:

GOOD ENOUGH TO MAKE MONEY IS GOOD ENOUGH TO MAKE MONEY

Lots of new business builders are perfectionists who keep fiddling with logos and trying to get things "perfect" before they will even try to attract some customers. That's backwards. You should begin generating real-world feedback by trying to get to revenue as fast as you can. Start small, get feedback, make improvements, and then keep improving your business from there.

Be an "agile entrepreneur". This is someone who follows the agile approach which has revolutionized software development. Get some paying customers first, and then come back and flesh out your perfect business model, ideal value proposition, superb marketing funnel, and so on.

60 MINUTES A DAY
X 30 DAYS
= 1 VIABLE BUSINESS

The great thing is you can build a new business in just 60-minutes a day for the next 30 days if you apply the agile entrepreneurship principles.

"The 60-Minute Startup is for serious entrepreneurs who want a real business with real customers as soon as possible. Did you know that 70 percent of people want to start a business, but less than 15 percent of aspiring entrepreneurs go from idea to ownership? My goal is to close this entrepreneurship desire gap and make you one of the few who starts, builds, and grows a viable, profitable business. Let's begin!"

"Agile entrepreneurs believe in real-life feedback over business school theories. Fast over methodical. Done now over done well. Money in the bank over money spent on courses. You might say agile entrepreneurs are in it for the money, and rightly so. What's the point of starting a business if you never make money?"
